

INQUIRY AFTER TV RUMPUS

AN INQUIRY was being held to-day by Thames Television chiefs into the use of four-letter words and obscenities during peak viewing time by "punk rock" group Sex Pistols. There was a discussion among senior management and "To-day" presenter Bill Grundy was called in, said Thames. An apology is to be repeated to-night, after hundreds of shocked viewers rang Thames to complain about obscenities.