

EMI MAY DROP SEX PISTOLS

By TONY PATEY

THE Sex Pistols' £40,000 recording contract hung in the balance last night.

Bosses of EMI are considering cancelling their agreement with the notorious punk rock group.

Chairman Sir John Read said a decision about the contract would be made within a week.

The group's four-letter insult to the Queen on Monday night will be taken into account.

The Pistols burst into the limelight with their foul-mouthed replies to TV interviewer Bill Grundy last week.

Yesterday they learned that their Boxing Day concert at Harlesden, North West London, had been cancelled.

But suspended Mr. Grundy had better news. He has been booked by Granada for tomorrow's "What the Papers Say" programme.
