

EVENING POST

Top quality ventilation

Vent-Axia
the fug fighter

5 Dolly Lane, Leeds LS9 7TT
Tel: Leeds 45 2985

Lewis's
Including holidays in Britain,
Jersey and Guernsey — 1977
GET YOUR BROCHURE NOW!
TRAVEL BUREAU
FIRST FLOOR

MONDAY DECEMBER 6 1976

TEL. LEEDS 32701 — Classified advertising 41234

PRICE 7p

TWO SHOT IN RAID ON BANK

Two men were shot in a London bank raid today.

One of them, a bank messenger, was shot in both legs and underwent emergency surgery in hospital. The other man was not thought to be seriously hurt.

The raid was on the Barclays Bank branch in George Lane, South Woodford, shortly after it opened.

A gang, three or four strong, stole the messenger and a security guard who had just made a delivery of £8,000.

CLUBBED

The raiders grabbed the money and left in a brown car believed to be a Ford Cortina or Granada.

A third man, whom it is thought was a customer who tried to tackle one of the raiders, was clubbed with the butt of a revolver, but not badly hurt.

Coun. Bill Hudson
"... far better off without them."

Coun. Patrick Crotty
"... sorry people find it necessary."

Coun. Rev. Michael Taylor
"... society has lost moral values."

Sex Pistols get their orders: No swearing in Leeds

Sex Pistols, the controversial new punk rock band, have been told to cut swearing from their concert at Leeds Polytechnic tonight.

This was revealed today by Ian Steele, the Polytechnic Union's vice president for recreation and one of the concert organisers.

The concert has been given the go-ahead despite widespread cancellations for their tour, "Anarchy in the U.K."

About 500 students and "townies" have bought tickets for the concert in the union assembly room.

Mr. Steele said: "We were told that the group's road manager has ordered the Pistols not to swear on stage.

"It seems to be an attempt to save the other concerts on tour while trying to preserve their image," he said. The group started a major uproar last week when they used four-letter words on a television programme.

Mr. Chris Tiplie, Deputy Director of Education for Leeds, said the Education Department and Dr. Patrick Nuttgens, — the Leeds Polytechnic Director — did not propose to stop the group appearing.

"What the Poly students' union does in the assembly hall is up to them providing there is no physical violence or damage to the building," he said. But there was strong reaction from some Leeds councillors today about the pop group.

Coun. Bill Hudson (Con, Airedale), Further Education Committee chairman, said the city would be far better off without them. "There is nothing we can do to stop them now, but the situation over the use of the assembly hall at Leeds Polytechnic could be changed when the present agreement comes up for review, shortly."

Coun. Patrick Crotty (Con, Roundhay and Harehills), Education Committee chairman, said he was sorry the people studying higher education found it necessary to listen to such rubbish.

Coun. the Rev. Michael Taylor (Lib, East and West Hunslet) said in a society which had lost its moral values the controversy was something such groups could get away with.

Meanwhile, there were reports that the group had damaged the lobby of the Dragonara Hotel, Leeds.

They were reported to have smashed a potted plant display.

One eye witness said they had thrown handfuls of soil about the hotel while smashing the plant pots.

But the hotel's duty manager, Mr. M. Reddy, said today: "It's been blown up out of all proportion. I've been on duty all weekend and, as far as I'm concerned, nothing happened."

'Father is dead': Geoff Cope flies from India

£2,000 FOR QUAKE VICTIMS
... first cross appeal, fund for victims of Turkey earthquake