

Sid & Nancy Media

Home >> Punk Features

Sid Home | The Myth | The History Of Sid | Part 2 | Part 3 | Discography | Memories Of John | DOA Interview | Sid & Nancy - Media | Nancy | Alan Parker Interview 2007

Fuck me Nancy's and Sid's death sparked a feeding frenzy in the tabloids with frequent front page articles. Here's some of them...

The bizarre life of punk star Vicious

SEAMY SID

Rocky rise of an East End kid

GUITARIST Sid Vicious, the boy from a broken home in London's East End, found love in the bizarre world of punk rock.

Vicious met his girlfriend Nancy Spungen nearly two years ago when he went to America with the Sex Pistols group.

His shows at this time were bizarre. He sneezed, belched and vomited on stage.

At one concert he backed a fan over the head with his guitar. "It slipped," he explained.

Vicious liked to inflict wounds on himself with a knife or broken glass.

He would display the scars to audiences.

And then he fell for the blonde from Philadelphia known as Nancy. Last night friends said the couple seemed made for each other.

"Sid and Nancy were no else," said a spokesman at the Sex Pistols' London office. "He worshipped her."

girlfriend of the Pistols' manager, Malcolm McLaren, said: "Sid does have a temper, but he loved Nancy very much."

"He and Nancy did have a drugs problem, but Sid was taking a cure course to come off heroin."

Not everyone loved Nancy, though.

Another friend of Vicious described her as a bad influence and added: "She led him on to do crazy things. It was Nancy who got him into drugs."

DEAD: Nancy Spungen

"She could wind him round her little finger even though they fought a lot."

"But they had a passionate relationship."

Back To Top