

n.

The Fulham Liberals have gained a new supporter. But he won't be voting in the coming General Election. He is Mark Rendel, baby son of the prospective Liberal candidate, David Rendel. Since he will only be a little more than a month old on election day it will be another 18 years re he can vote for his dad.

Meanwhile, instead of the traditional politician's "walkabout," David Rendel is expecting to take his son with him on "wheelabouts" around the streets of

A JAIL WARNING FOR PUNK FANS

'We can't have public put in fear' — court

sea's Kings Road on Sa-turday.

And magistrate Mr.

Kenneth Harington told him: "No matter what you chaps think, you are not the only you are not the only gallery, the magistrate warned another accused: "If his sort of thing occurs again, I shall have to consider imprisonment because wreally can't have the public put in fear by people who simply think of themselves and nobody else."

The Fulham teenager, Lance Jowers, 18, a labourer, of Ranelagh

Gardens, admitted causing highway obstruction in Kings Road and was said to have been in a group of about 250 punk fans who were blocking the footway, causing passers - by to walk round them.

The court was told that the fans were demonstrating against the closure of Beaufort Market, complex of punk shops in Kings Road, the last two of which were closing down on Saturday, when police stopped a planned protest concert by top punk band, The Clash. Jowers, who had no-thing to say to the court, was fined £8. A Fulham telephonist arrested during the de-

REVISED TRAFFIC PLAN FOR SANDS END AREA

by residents. The new one is closer to a scheme preferred by local residents during consultation but which was not acceptable to the emergency authorities.

The barriers have gaps wide enough to allow cycles and the control of the people in housing, social services and to Mr. Stead, a solicitor and former leader of the borough council, said in his adoption speech: "Before the issues become clouded Iwant to make a simple promise to the electors of Fulham."

'MY PLEDGE TO FULHAM' BY LABOUR

Barrie Stead, prospective Parliamentary candidate for Fulham, has announced that he will give up his job if elected in order to tackle the problems faced by Fulham people in housing, social services and unemployment.

Intend, as their MP, to devote myself to caring for the people of Fulham residency of Fulham residency of the providency of greatest need, unlike many other MP's who are lawyers.

"There are large numbers of Fulham residents who have housing problems, too many with difficulties on supplementary benefit and tax, and too many for whom there is no work.

"Michael Stewart has looked after Fulham residents diligently for more than 3d years, and I intend have just as much care and trouble for them in a trouble for them in a strength of the services of th and trouble for the the future.

"Housing will be one of the main issues at the election. House prices election. House prices have soared in the area, so have soared in the area, so have lead neople buying.

on there is little hope of local people buying. It is, therefore, essential there should be more and better housing for letting by the local authorities, housing co operatives and housing associations. Contrast this need with the Tories' policy. They are determined to sell off the better housing whether it is Bayonne whether it is Bayonne whether it is Bayonne.

whether it is Bayonne Road or St. Paul's School site. They do not care that it is the new and better homes that are despe-rately needed by those seeking a transfer, or are unemployment.

Today we pay our way in the world. Our share of world trade is increasing. The rise in prices, though still serious, is beling brought under control.

The real value of wages has risen by about our control. The control of the contr where so they can do up their homes like anyone shallowed to take in lodgers if they wish. I will ask them to vote for me and the Labour Government that will provide this new deal for tenants and provide more and better homes for them and their families.

Stewart, the Labour politician who has represented Fulham in the House of Commons for 34 years, compared the Labour Government is record with that of the Tory Government's record with that of the Tory Government in recent years. In his speech at Mr. Steads addition meeting situation in 1974. The whole world's economy was upset by a huge rise in the price of oil.

"The reckless printing of paper money by a Tory Government was the price of oil.

"The reckless printing of paper money by a Tory Government was the price of the world we were £3,000 million in the red.

DANDS PAINT

13/14 FULHAM BROADWAY, FULHAM. TEL: 01-385 8600