

Benefit Jamboree Hosted For Cancer Society

By STEVE YABLONSKI
P-T Staff Writer

The Cabaret will host a jamboree to benefit the Oswego County Unit of the American Cancer Society April 29 from 1-10 p.m. The Cabaret is located on West Seneca Street, Oswego. The event is becoming a yearly event and there will be several bands performing. There will also be a 50-50 raffle early in the evening. Several local merchants have donated prizes. All money raised will be used by the local unit for services: it offers county cancer patients and for its educational programs. There will be a $1 donation at the door.

Clash To Do College Concert

OSWEGO — The SUNY Oswego Program Policy Concert Board will sponsor The Clash in concert on Sunday evening.

The show begins at 8 p.m. in Laker Hall on the college campus. Tickets are $7.50 for Student Association members and $10 for non-SA members. All tickets are $10 the day of the show.

The group was formed in early summer of 1976 in West London when Paul Simon and Mick Jones, aware of a growing attitude in London at that time that disregarded the rock and roll establishment and musical ability, decided to join forces.

Today the five-man band consists of Joe Strummer on vocals; Paul Simon on bass guitar; Vince White, guitar; Nick Sheppard, guitar; and Pete Howard, drums.

However, today's lineup has not always been; the group has been through several personnel changes since the early days.

At the early formation of the group, Keith Levine joined Simon and Jones on guitar, and Joe Strummer accepted the group's offer as lead singer. Terry Chimes then joined on drums and the group then moved into an old railway warehouse in North London, where Simon named them The Clash.

After just several live shows, however, Levine left and Chimes soon followed. But, The Clash went on to sign, in January, 1977, a worldwide recording contract with CBS Records and recorded their debut album in three weekends. After auditioning 206 drummers, the group was also able to fill the vacancy Levine left with Nicky "Topper" Headon.

The Clash arrived in the United States in February of 1979 for their first American tour.

Drummer Pete Howard arrives in May of 1983 and then in September of 1983 Strummer and Jones decided that Jones should leave the group because it is felt that he has drifted apart from the original idea of The Clash.

White and Sheppard were added to the lineup earlier this year.

'Sweet Charity' To Be At SUCO

OSWEGO — With music by Cy Coleman and book by Neil Simon, "Sweet Charity" will come to life on April 26, through the singing and dancing of a 35-member cast backed by a full orchestra in SUNY Oswego's Waterman Theater of Tyler Hall.

The musical production will run through May 2, with all but the final performance beginning at 8:15 p.m. Curtain time May 2 will be 7 p.m.

"It's a story of a New York City dance-hall hostess unlucky at love," says Ron Medici, assistant professor of theater who is directing and choreographing the college production. All Charity Hope Valentine really wants is to fall in love, but she can't seem to find the right man.

The musical is actually a story within a story, with the events of the show representing a dream

Charity has after she's pushed into a well by one of her "boyfriends."

Musical Director James Soluri, professor of music, will conduct the full orchestra for the production in such hit numbers as "Big Spender," "If My Friends Could See Me Now" and "I'm a Brass Band."

The student cast of 35 features Therese McLaughlin as Charity, Michael Lounsbury as Oscar and John O'Brien as Vittorio Vidal. McLaughlin and O'Brien, theater majors at the college, both appeared in the recent honors program production of "The Glass Menagerie." Lounsbury is a sophomore studying communications.

Tickets for "Sweet Charity" sell for $5 ($4 for senior citizens and children under 12) and are on sale at the Tyler Hall box office between 1 and 6 p.m. daily. For information and reservations, call the box office at 341-2141.

On April 28, a pre-theater buffet featuring roast beef au jus, seafood newburg and baked ham, will be served in Hewitt Union Restaurant adjacent to Tyler Hall at a cost of $8 per person. Cocktails will be served at 5:30 p.m. and the buffet will begin at 6:30 p.m. Reservations for dinner are required and may be made at the restaurant or the Tyler Hall box office.

IN LOVE — Charity (Therese McLaughlin) wears her heart on her sleeve for her boyfriend, Oscar, (Michael Lounsbury) in "Sweet Charity," the Neil Simon-Cy Coleman musical. The SUNY Oswego production runs April 26 through May 2 in Waterman Theatre in Tyler Hall on campus. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. on all days except May 2 when it will be at 7 p.m.

'Splash' Is A Smash Of A Movie

By JOSEPH KIRSCH
P-T News Intern

OSWEGO — Disney Studios' newest subsidiary, Touchstone Films, has come with a definite box office smash with "Splash" currently playing at the Oswego 2 Theatre.

The story centers around the romance between an innocent mermaid named Madison, played by 23-year-old Daryl Hannah, and Allen Bauer, a New York City produce executive, played by Tom Hanks.

This touching film of romance and adventure centers on the couple's escapades in New York and on the attempts of a scientist, played by Eugene Levy, best known for his work on SCTV, to capture the mermaid and expose her for what she really is.

Also starring the film is John Candy, also of SCTV fame, as Allen's carefree brother, Freddie.

In the movie, Allen travels to Cape Cod to find the woman of his dreams, the woman he finally believes he can love. The woman he finds is a mermaid and she the mermaid, follows his back to New York where they can be together.

Under the direction of Ron Howard, formerly of "Happy Days," the film centers mostly on the blooming romance between Madison and Allen.

For her first feature film, Hannah evokes a sense of innocence and naivete not seen in films in some time.

Hannah's co-star, Hanks, also offers a breath of fresh air in his role as the love-stricken executive.

The film's underwater photography is at times breathtakingly beautiful and helps to enhance the film's overall quality.

Show Should Be Fingerpickin' Good

OSWEGO — The Ontario Center for Performing Arts presents the 1982 U.S. National Fingerpicking Champion, Chris Proctor, for his Central New York debut, 8 p.m. April 28 at the United Church of Christ, at East Fourth and Oneida streets, Oswego.

A California native, Proctor is a pro on the six- and 12-string guitars, treating his audience to a tasteful and entertaining evening of acoustic guitar wizardry, including original compositions, as well as Irish jigs and musical tall tales.

Proctor has been entertaining audiences for close to a decade. He first achieved recognition in the popular Sun Valley, Idaho duo, "Cahoots," and later as lead guitarist and vocalist of

Salt Lake City's bluegrass band, "New Moon."

Drawing from his varied background in blues, ragtime, Irish, traditional and contemporary folk, as well as years of classical and jazz music theory training Proctor has extended the boundaries of the acoustic guitar in bold fashion. His guitar mastery is exhibited in more than 50 sparkling instrumental pieces, almost all of which are original or originally arranged.

A not-for-profit educational corporation, The Ontario Center for Performing Arts sponsors this concert as part of its 1984 season of traditional arts and music presented for family entertainment. For information and reservations, call 342-1733.

Ann Landers

Does A Herring Need A Bike?

Dear Ann Landers: I am planning to marry a wonderful man but as the time draws near, I am becoming increasingly fearful that things may not work out.

Harold's daughter is a carbon copy of his first wife, who passed away a few years ago. The young woman is married but you would never know it by the way her father behaves in her presence. I sometimes wonder what her husband thinks.

The caressing and hand-holding is one thing. The lap-sitting and kissing is another. Harold doesn't take his eyes off the girl whenever she is in the room. He keeps asking, "Isn't she the most beautiful thing you ever saw?"

The gifts he buys her are out of this world. I have yet to receive anything so expensive. Maybe I am jealous. He says I'm behaving childishly. What are my chances of being elevated to first place after we are married?

—Heavy Competition In Florida

Dear H.C.: Harold sounds hopelessly hooked on his daughter. I'd say your chances for easing her into the second spot are extremely poor. You need this marriage like a herring needs a bicycle.

Dear Ann Landers: This is for that idiot in Sterling, Ill., who claims she spent her childhood anticipating the independence that adulthood would bring and now bemoans the responsibilities of marriage.

I have this question for her: Who told you to get married? Any fool should have known that trading a pair of domineering parents for a demanding husband is no bargain.

I escaped from my parents' clutches when I was 19. I am now a happy 40-year-old single woman with a rewarding career, a terrific social life and the freedom I know I needed to be happy.

If "Sterling" is one of those women who must have marriage and a family in order to achieve true fulfillment (whatever that means), she has no right to complain.

You should have known, lady. If you don't like the frying pan, the fire will not be much of an improvement.

—Played My Cards Right In Akron

Dear AK: It's a lot easier to play your cards right when you are in control of the deck. But not all women have the courage to leave home at an early age, nor are they wise enough to determine in advance that the joker may be wild.

Dear Ann Landers: I was amused by the brouhaha that resulted when you printed the letter from the young man who brought several hundred dollars worth of pennies into a bank and was upset because no one wanted to take the time to count them.

Now I read where the owner of a taco restaurant in Austin, Tex., who has been saving pennies for two years, brought in 25 gallons worth. It came to $1.165. He deposited the money in his children's savings account.

While I think this is fine and dandy, I would not care to be behind that guy in line during my lunch hour. Would you? —A Toe-Tapper In Topeka

Dear Tapper: No, I would not. But perhaps the Austin man received special treatment. Hopefully there was a counting machine on hand.
